

Ghana Schools take I.T. exams on CARE Computers

Two Ghanaian schools are preparing students for their WASSCE (West African Senior School Certificate Examination) tests in I.T.

Without the computers and ongoing support by CARE the tests may have not been achievable for these students. At Wesley Grammar School in Accra, Ghana students are preparing for the tests under the supervision of the I.T. Manager and Technician. Nyankumasi Ahenkro Senior High School are also busy preparing for the I.T. tests.
